Let Common Sense Decide
What is the rational mode of procedure [illegible] prostration? Does not reason tell us that judicious stimulation is required? To resort to violent purgation in such a case is as absurd as it would be to bleed a starving man Yet it is done every day [illegible] this stupid and unphilosophical practice is continued in the teeth of the great fact that physical weakness with all the nervous disturbances that accompany it is more certainly and rapidly relieved by Hostetter s Stomach Bitters than by any other medicine at present known. It is true that general debility is often attended with torpidity or irregularity of the bowels, and that this symptom must not be overlooked. But while the discharge of the waste matter of the system is expedited or regulated, its vigor must be recruited. The Bitters do both. They combine aperient and antibilious properties, with extraordinary tonic power [illegible] wonderful corrective, alterative [illegible] decide between such a preparation and a prostrating cathartic [illegible]

JOHN H. LYNDE, - - PROPRIETOR.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1870.

The great mystery of New York is at present the Broadway pneumatic tunnel. The secrecy with which it has been prosecuted, foiling the endeavors of the officials and the reporters to solve it, and the length of time taken to excavate it, is supposed, only a few blocks, has given rise to the general belief that it is in reality an under-ground railroad. The people of New York generally would rejoice at the success of such an enterprise, which they have so long desired, but which has been so repeatedly defeated by other Railroad corporations. But they are likely to be involved in one of those interminable quarrels which neutralize every work there. The telegraph now informs us that owing to the fact that Broadway has sunk from six to nine inches between Murray and Warren Streets in consequence of a tunnel being constructed under it, and fearing a catastrophe from the threatened sinking of the street, Mayor Hall sent an official yesterday to investigate and report the nature and extent of the under-ground excavation. The parties, however, refused to allow any investigation, and the agent of the Company waited on the Mayor and told him it was none of his business, and that he (the Mayor) had no right to interpose, as authority had been obtained from the Legislature and the work had the approval of the Croton Water Commissioners. Now, were we to offer a guess it would be that the "sinking" is either trumped up, or that it has been purposely done by the railroad ring, who begin to fear that the scheme means competition. Mayor Hall is probably being used to perpetuate the reign of the monopolists.

The Bucyrus (Ohio) Forum comes to the defence of Congressman Mungen for his speech favoring repudiation. And it predicts that the "smouldering financial volcano, whose crater is now covered over with the thin blanket of Garfield's resolution, will ere long break forth from its subterranean depths like Ætna, and bury bondholder and bond under the molten lava of irretrievable ruin." That is what you may call unadulterated Democracy.

The secret of the New York World's venomous attacks on the late Secretary Stanton may be found in the following anecdote told by the New York Sun: One day during 1863 or 1864, a correspondent of the New York World applied at the War Department for a pass to the army of the Potomac. The question was taken to Mr Stanton—at that time he allowed no one else to give such passes—and his answer was "Refuse it, and say to the correspondent that no favor can be given here to treasonable newspaper." No doubt this reply was faithfully reported at the World office, and that journal has ever since pursued Mr Stanton with a rancor it has never exhibited toward Jefferson Davis.

The Republican State Committee for 1870 met at Augusta Monday and organized by the choice of Hon James G Blaine as Chairman. This is the twelfth consecutive year of Mr Blaine's chairmanship of the committee. He was present at the meeting.

The New Orleans Republican states that J J Alston, agent of the Chicago Scandinavian Emigration Society, is now there contracting with the planters for a supply of two hundred laborers per week. They will consist of Norwegians, Swedes, Danes Germans, &c.

The Cuban Junta has issued a long address to the American people denouncing the statements received from Havana of the termination of the rebellion, and certain statements of Spanish officers to show the mendacity of Spanish reports of victories; also dispatches from the Cuban camps to Dec 7th state that the Cuban force there was about 40,000 strong, well organized, though not as well armed and equipped as could be desired. The address also recites the action of the Cuban civil government to show that there is a regularly organized civil administration. The address goes at length into the history of the revolution, the barbarity of the the Spanish authorities and forces, justifies the plan of operations against the Spanish and the destruction of the plantations as a means of destroying the Spanish power in the Island.

The members of the Board of Trade of Buffalo without distinction of party, have denounced the outrageous attack of the Albany Argus upon the dead Stanton. The late Secretary of War was too pure a man and patriot for "confidence" Cassidy (as he is affectionately called) to say anything good about. If Cassidy were not the apologist and defender of the corruption of the New York Ring, he might have a little shame about him, but we are sorry to say he has not. How can the man who is the friend ally of the New York political thieves, say anything good of an honest man?

The annual message of Gov. Hayes to the Ohio Legislature was delivered Monday afternoon. It was short and only alludes to national matters by recommending the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Referring to the State finances, he estimates the receipts for the current year at $4 791,144.50, and the disbursements $4,477,899 60. The total debt of the State is given at $9,755,938.27. The Governor recommends a revision of the financial laws of Ohio, the adoption of a plan for the classification of convicts in the Penitentiary, that provisions be made for the chronic insane, the establishing of an agricultural college, and that aid be rendered to the Soldiers' Orphans' Home.

The New York Times says if the Cuban yacht Anna should have weathered the storm of the past week, there are grave doubts as to her getting safely to her destination, as within three hours after the time she left Sandy Hook, her departure, with a minute description of the craft and all on board, were telegraphed to the Spanish authorities in Havana, and gunboats immediately left there to intercept the yacht. We have information from a very reliable source that another expedition, comprised of three hundred men—all Cubans—is being fitted out in this city. The Spanish detectives are displaying great activity in the matter. Their force has been nearly doubled, and they have no doubt of being able to kill the project. It is stated that Colonel Ryan and Col. Cisnoces were on board the yacht Anna, which left a few days since for Cuba. Ryan was under heavy bonds to obey the neutrality laws.

An Havana letter of Dec. 29th states that young Lamar was executed that morning—Arrests, executions and transportations continue. A universal system of general espionage has been inaugurated, and the slightest act or speech of not only those who are known sympathizers with the revolutionists but of all Cubans, is watched attentively by keen eyes.

LETTER FROM AUGUSTA

AUGUSTA Jan. 3, 1870.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

The Hon James G Blaine is in town—Hon. Lot M. Morrill left for Washington today.

Nathan Webb Esq of Portland declines being a candidate for U S District Attorney in favor of George F Talbot Esq. Mr Talbot has acquired an interest in the Portland Advertiser newspaper.

George Peirce of Harrison is a candidate for Councillor from Cumberland County.

A "paper credit" case was tried at Norridgewock last week. The town of Harmony sued Davis and Dalaney to recover back the money paid by the town for 21 "paper credit" men. Verdict for defendants, after a full trial in which everything was put into the case that could be.

The storm of yesterday was terrific here, and caused a great rise in the Kennebec river.

The hosts have begun to gather here, outsiders and insiders, each in earnest for his candidate—boring and button-holing. You meet Mr ——, and he tells you he is perfectly sure. In a few minutes after you come across Mr ——, the opposing candidate, and he too is perfectly sure! A man to succeed now-a-days must bore "in season and out of season." Few positions come to men without such efforts. OBSERVER

AUGUSTUS, Jan 4, 1870

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

In 1866 the Legislature passed a resolve ordering that "in lieu of being engrossed by writing—the engrossing should be done by printing"—and for the last three sessions of the Legislature it has been done by type, according to the resolve. The cost for engrossing for 1869 was $3 184 74. The question now arises as to whether the increased expense (more than double) is of any advantage to the State.

Some complaint is made about the manner in which the affairs of the old Hallowell Bank are being settled. Some notice of it will probably be taken by the next Legislature.

The State Treasurer has commenced issuing to cities and towns their proportion of the State bonds belonging to them under the report of the "Commission on the Assumption of War Debts." The State bonds of Maine are worth about ninety-eight dollars on a hundred in Boston, and holders of these bonds should not sell them much below that figure.

The ice went out of the Kennebec River, by this city, last night, and jammed up below Hallowell, causing a rise in the river of about ten feet in thirty minutes, flowing up into the streets of that city. OBSERVER

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

A despatch from General Reynolds was received by the President yesterday. He states that all but four counties in Texas have been heard from, the returns giving Davis 775 majority.

Prominent persons in Washington are urging the appointment of John A. Wills of Western Pennsylvania to the Supreme Bench. Among his supporters is Speaker Blaine.

Those who are intimate with Gen McClellan—now in Washington—say that in his political views he is much nearer General Grant than the extreme Democrats.

The Augusta (Ga) Chronicle thinks that the political complexion of the Georgia Legislature, when the negro members are re-seated, will be uncertain, with the probability of a small Democratic majority.

There is said to be a project on foot in the Ways and Means Committee for smothering Commissioner Wells' report. Several members of Congress have stated that they never had so many inquiries for any single document as for this report.

The Houston (Texas) Union approvingly quotes the following from the composition of a school boy there: "Let us behave ourselves that we may get back into the Union, and then let us continue to behave ourselves that we may be happy and prosperous."

Ben Hill, who did more than any other man to switch Georgia off the true reconstruction track temporarily, advises his friends to "receive this additional attempt of Congress to destroy them as the Roman Senate received the invaders of their country—with quiet dignity and stolid indifference."

Notwithstanding the Democratic talk about the unfairness of the Texas election, the Columbus Times, a Texas paper that supported the Conservative ticket, very frankly concedes the fairness of the election as well as the good character of the Radicals, who were triumphant in its county.

The Savannah Republican says "Mr Stanton was a bad man," and adds, "he was the life and soul of the Federal armies during the late war, and but for his abilities and unconquerable sternness of purpose it would have closed years before it did, and with the South independent." Could higher praise be awarded?

The approaching political conventions in New Hampshire promise to be earnest and harmonious. The Democrats will probably renominate General Bedel, and Gov. Stearns will be renominated by acclamation by the Republicans. The Temperance movement is not taking shape as rapidly as was expected by some, and the probabilities are that their convention will be small and divided in sentiment, while the labor reform movement is still regarded as a very small ripple on the surface of New Hampshire politics.

The salaries of the employees of the Western Union Telegraph Company at San Francisco, California, having been reduced by order of the Company, without consultation with them. They have in consequence suspended work and have called upon their brethren throughout the country to aid them in resisting this action of the Company. The employees of the Company at Sacramento, Omaha, St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Janesville, New Orleans, Baltimore, Washington, Albany, and other principal offices, have expressed their determination to co-operate with their San Francisco brethren preventing this reduction. At a meeting of the telegraphers of New York, Monday night resolutions were adopted unanimously that a committee of three wait on the officials of the Company there and request that the salaries at San Francisco be not reduced as proposed, and that the operators discharged there for refusing to submit to the reduction be reinstated, and that this committee report promptly the result.

DEATH OF THE WELSH "FASTING GIRL." The famous Welsh "fasting girl," who has been the subject of so many newspaper paragraphs, and whose case excited so much interest in England Wales, died on the 17th of December, after being carefully watched for eight days by four experienced nurses. The story told by her parents was, that about two years and a quarter ago, while eleven years old the child was seized with vomiting of blood. She took to her bed, and never afterward left it, except when she was lifted out. She immediately displayed an inability to swallow, and the sight of food at once brought on fits. In this condition she is said to have remained ever since, without touching either food or drink, except that her lips were moistened with water once a fortnight. This, of course, could not be, but no one saw food given to her during the period named, though she was once before watched. The first observers, however, committed to search her bed, where food might have been concealed, which was done by the parties employed on the last occasion. The scrutiny preceding her death [illegible] instituted by a committee of medical and [illegible] [illegible] The result [illegible] were produced, and she died in delirium at the end of a week. Her parents refused even at the last moments of the trial, to give any food. Whether the deception was wilful or not, the poor child has paid dearly for it.—At the age of thirteen she has deliberately accepted a lingering death. It is not probable that the real secret of her abstinence will ever be discovered. She herself has kept it to the last and if her parents were cognizant of it they are not likely now to reveal it.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON Jan 4, 1870.

A REFORM OFFERED TO SUSPICION

Collector Casey of New Orleans filed in the Treasury Department his scheme for the reorganization of the custom house down there. He proposes an annual reduction in the expense of about $90,000, but the curious fact of the matter is that nearly all the clerks and laborers whose removal is recommended are Republicans, while hundreds of avowed Democrats, some of whom have belonged to the worst kind of secret political organizations, are retained in lucrative positions. The Louisiana delegation in Congress is nearly if not quite unanimous in asking Casey's dismissal. They are producing affidavits in large numbers showing mismanagement on his part and existence of things among his favorites by which wrongs are committed, and harm done to the government.

MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE

Word is received here that the military commander in Mississippi will call the new Legislature of that State together on Tuesday of next week. All the members will be required to take the oath in the third section of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution before entering on their duty and the body will at once ratify the fifteenth amendment. Three fourths of the members are Republicans. One of the first duties of the Legislature will be to elect United States Senators. Some persons believe they will select General Ames himself, if his consent can be obtained.

COMMISSIONER WELLS' REPORT

The demand for the report of Special Commissioner Wells is unusually large. This year and facilities for filling the demand are unusually small as the House has not yet ordered any extra copies.

NEW GREENBACKS

The Treasury Department will put the five twenties and fifties of the new series legal tender notes in circulation in about ten days. They are handsome bills and are a decided improvement ... [illegible] than the new ones and twos in circulation. The Department has had a good deal of trouble with the New York bank note companies about these new bills and is not entirely satisfied with the manner in which a part of the work has been done. The Secretary is of opinion that it would be better to [illegible] of it in the department building.

THE SUPREME COURT AND THE LEGAL TENDER ACT

The Supreme Court will not, it is said, give any decision bearing on the legal tender act. It is not improbable that the Court will have the case in which it has been brought before them reopened for argument. Before these new arguments can be made two new justices will have taken their seats on the Supreme Bench and it is safe to predict that there will not be any decision on this important question for some months to come.

A paper out in Illinois talks in this way. If you owe one but a single dollar go and pay it in ... when there is so little money we ought to keep it moving around lively. Jim owed us, and we owed Bill, and Bill owed Jim. Jim got mad because we made him pay up ... morning last week, but we paid Bill and Bill paid Jim, and Jim went to bed that night happy as a clam, with just as much money as he had in the morning, and three men out of debt.

Consumption.

The Three Remedies SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs Colds Bronchitis and ... Consumption. The peculiar action of this medicine ripens the ulcers in the lungs, promotes the discharge of the corrupt matter by expectoration, purifies the blood, and thus cures Consumption when every other remedy fails.

SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia or Indigestion and all diseases arising from debility. This tonic invigorates the digestive organs, supplies the place of the gastric juice when that is deficient, and then enables the patient to digest the most nutritious food. It is a sovereign remedy for all cases of indigestion.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, one of the most valuable medicines ever discovered being a vegetable substitute for calomel and having all the useful properties ascribed to the mineral, without producing any of its injurious effects.

To these three medicines Dr J H Schenck, of Philadelphia owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of Pulmonic Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter discharges it and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, remove all obstructions therefrom, give the organs a healthy tone, and cures Liver Complaint which is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic invigorates the powers of the stomach and by strengthening the digestion and bringing it to a normal and healthy condition, improves the quality of the blood by which the formation of ulcers or tubercles in the lungs becomes impossible. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained will cure every case of consumption if the remedies are used in time and the use of them is persevered in sufficiently to bring the case to a favorable termination.

Dr Schenck's Almanac containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office No 15 North Sixth Street Philadelphia.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic ... per bottle or $7 50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cts per box ... by all druggists and dealers.

Minister Low has received his final instructions from the State Department and will leave Washington for New York to-morrow evening and the latter city for China via Cal ifornia next Saturday

THE STRIKE AMONG THE TELEGRAPH OPERATORS

NEW YORK, Jan 4

About 4 o clock this afternoon, the operators of the Western Union Telegraph Company in this city, belonging to the "Telegraphers Protective League," comprising most of the operators here, left their instruments and the offices of the company not having been able to arrive at any satisfactory arrangement in regard to the alleged action of the company s officials towards their employees in California. They express their determination to resist by all proper and legal means, any attempt to reduce the compensation paid telegraphic employees

A meeting of the operators was held this afternoon, and another this evening, at which much enthusiasm was manifested — Reports were received from many of the principal offices of concurrent action, on the part of their brethren It was reported at the meetings that the operators south of Washington had quit work in a body and that at Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington only two or three operators remain in each office for the transaction of the business of the company It was reported at the meetings that the operators between New York and Boston had generally quit work or would do so to-morrow

The Western officials furnish for publication a statement in regard to the difficulty with its employees. They assert that there is no reasonable ground, in fact, for this last attempted strike here and in the West. The telegraphic correspondence between the officers here and at San Francisco, they say fully sustain the press telegrams on the subject — They assert that no reduction of salaries at San Francisco had been either made or contemplated there and none had been suggested or considered at headquarters here They further assert that the whole story seems to have sprung from the malice of two late employees at San Francisco, who had been dismissed because their services were no longer required The pretext of an attempt to reduce their compensation is without foundation

A letter from O H Palmer, the Secretary of the Company, to a Committee of the League here is forwarded for publication, substantially covering the above statements, and containing a copy of the following dispatch from Mr Mumford, the agent of the Company at San Francisco, to Mr Palmer

"I have reduced no salaries in San Francisco or anywhere else and have no intention of doing so Two men were discharged in San Francisco because I was satisfied that they were trying to excite dissatisfaction and make mischief and because the force in the office was larger than was necessary to do our business The plea of a general reduction is without the slightest foundation The only changes made were increases and not reductions and the salaries now are as high as ever had been paid here before "

In conclusion, Mr Palmer says "I rely with implicit confidence upon the truth of this statement, and the action of this Company will be governed accordingly We can permit no combination or organization of men to dictate to us who or how many persons we shall employ for the transaction of our business We approve the action of Mr Mumford "

LATER. The telegraph officers authorize the following statement "A part of the men have struck, but force enough will be on hand to perform our service

NEW PUBLICATIONS

"HOW BENNIE DID IT," is the title of a book by Nathan Merchant, from the press of Messrs Hoyt, Fogg & Breed, of Portland — It is tastefully bound and illustrated, while the story is a very readable one, and teaches a useful lesson of commercial integrity that cannot but have a good influence upon its boy readers For sale by E F Duren

"GOOD WORDS FOR THE YOUNG," for January comes to hand filled as usual with interesting matter for the juveniles, among which we particularly notice the articles entitled "Among the Butterflies," and "Mrs Blunderbore's Trials," as unusually entertaining and attractive Published by J B Lippincott & Co, Philadelphia.

That terrible pest, trichina, has again broken out in Illinois Four deaths have recently occurred in the town of Marengo, and several are now suffering

Some of the people of St John are signing a petition for the commutation of the death sentence of John A Munroe, the murderer solely on the ground of the respectability of his family.

SAD ACCIDENT The Lewiston Journal says Morris Lawer, a workman employed in filling the wash-out on the Androscoggin railroad, was digging under an embankment Monday night, when the bank caved and fell upon him, breaking both his legs in a most painful manner one above the knee and the below Lawlor is a married man and the father of seven children. Unable to obtain employment for two months past, he went to work at about 11 o clock Monday night, and had been in the wash-out but a short time when the accident occurred.

—The Waterville Mail says that the Grist Mill on Ticonic Falls has been sold by the Water Power Company to Hon. D Milliken, at its cost to the Company The mill now uses about one hundred horse power, and Mr M will pay a water rent of $300 for three years; but the raceway and unoccupied portion of the Grist Mill lot afford opportunity for employing 200 horse power, and the Mail thinks that Mr. M. will enlarge and improve the mill.

The Hon Fernando Wood has purchased one of the finest residences in Washington and fitted it up in princely style It is said to be the most gorgeous establishment in the city All the furniture, carpets curtains and tapestry were imported having been made to order in Paris and other European cities Fernando gave a warming the other evening which exceeded anything of the kind that has taken place there for years. A large number of prominent men of both parties were present.— The questionable way in which Fernando earn by his money does not seem to be any bar to his getting into the best society Nobody cares whether Fernando made his money out of lotteries, or out of the city of New York provided he has it The thing is to get the money People are not in the habit these days of asking how you got it

What is the rational mode of procedure in cases of general debility and nervous prostration ? Does not reason tell us that judicious stimulation is required To resort to violent purgation in such a case is as absurb as it would be to bleed a starving man Yet it is done every day Yes this stupid and unphilosophical practice is continued in the teeth of the great fact that physical weakness, with all the nervous disturbances that accompany it, is more certainly and rapidly relieved by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than by any other medicine at present known It is true that general debility is often attended with torpidity or irregularity of the bowels, and that this symptom must not be overlooked But while the discharge of the waste matter of the system is expedited or regulated, its vigor must be recruited The Bitters do both They combine aperient and antibillious properties, with extraordinary tonic power Even while removing obstructions from the bowels they tone and invigorate those organs. Through the stomach, upon which the great vegetable specific acts directly, it gives a healthy and permanent impetus to [illegible] Digestion is facilitated, the faltering circulation regulated, the blood reinforced with a new accession of the alimentary principle, the nerves braced, and all the torpid powers of the system roused into healthy action, not spasmodically, as would be the case if a mere stimulant were administered, but [illegible] It is in this way that such extraordinary changes are wrought in the condition of the feeble, emaciated and nervous [illegible] by the use of this wonderful corrective, alterative and tonic Let common sense decide between such a preparation and a prostrating [illegible] by a poisonous stimulant [illegible]

IN SCHOOL DAYS

BY JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER

Still sits the schoolhouse by the road,
A ragged beggar sunning,
Around it still the sumachs grow,
And blackberry vines are running

Within, the master's desk is seen,
Deep scarred by rude official
The warping floor, the battered seats,
The jack-knife's carved initial,

The charcoal frescoes on its walls,
Its door's worn sill, betraying
The feet that creeping slow to school,
Went storming out to playing'

Long years ago a winter sun
Shone over it at setting,
Lit up its western window-panes
And low eaves' icy fretting

It touched the tangled golden curls,
And brown eyes full of grieving,
Of one who still her steps delayed
When all the school were leaving

For near her stood the little boy
Her childish favor singled,
His cap pulled low upon a face
Where pride and shame were mingled.

Pushing with restless foot the snow
To right and left, he lingered,—
As restlessly her tiny hands
The blue-checked apron fingered

He saw her lift her eyes, he felt
The soft hands light caressing,
And heard the tremble of her voice,
As if a fault confessing

'I am sorry that I spelt the word
I hate to go above you,
Because,—the brown eyes lower fell,—
Because you see, I love you'

Still memory to a gray haired man
That sweet child face is showing
Dear girl the grasses on her grave
Have forty years been growing'

He lives to learn, in life's hard school,
How few who pass above him
Lament their triumph and his loss
Like her—because they love him

MISCELLANY.

JOSH BILLINGS is described by a correspondent of the Maine Standard, as follows

A few mornings since I chanced to make a railcar acquaintance of the noted and greatly admired Josh Billings. The acquaintance was good while it lasted. Mr Billings is a gentleman, a positive man, and evidently got up for some purpose, and I judge from his general contour and aspect, that he has struck the purpose. This winter he is floating round 'kind of loose' in New England speaking pieces on "mulk," "natural and common history," &c. I don't know Billings' pedigree and shall therefore only give a fraternal description of the gentleman to prevent him from traveling incog as he is liable to do In viewing Mr Billings you will need considerable time as he towers about six feet four or five in his boots, including all the regular and irregular curves—omitting obtuse angles He wears a tall hat that receives his head, in size about seven and a quarter inches—under the hat is a huge crop of long black hair, and all trained or educated to go behind, consequently it has a gentle slope over the shoulders, and has much the appearance of a disorderly and broken down chignon His two eyes are of the witch hazel color, and heavily sheltered by a large oval forehead They are constantly busy observing things pertaining to his many and favorite subjects. His nose is Roman and Grecian, about half and half, and well rooted. It overhangs a full grown auburn moustache the two lateral horns of which are neatly tasselled with silver grey The moustache overhangs a large lateral opening—of the mouth species, this is pleasantly exercised on all suitable occasions His chin seems well and properly adapted to the rest of his features His general complexion is neither light nor dark. Anomally speaking, I should say that he stands in about the same relation to the human species that the giraffe does to the horse. He understands all branches of human nature and fully comprehends the natural sciences—His perceptive faculties have a large scope and include all that comes in their way, all matters and things are digested to suit his own taste, and no one will fail to get a great amount of instruction if they listen to his words of wisdom His voice is clear and natural All in all, he is an instructive man He rakes up all the scatterings that nature leaves round loose, as may be seen by his new almanac just invented and now undergoing the sixtieth edition I think a catarrh doctor might get a long job on him if he could only strike the right vein

CARE OF POULTRY IN WINTER. Very few persons pay necessary attention to poultry in winter, although at this season they require constant care Boards about four inches wide are better adapted for roosts than round poles, as the fowl sitting on them can cover their feet with their feathers and protect them from the frost Abundant food should be given in winter, as without it very few eggs will be obtained Every poultry house should be furnished with boxes for the hens to lay in—so arranged that they cannot roost over them Food and water should be given with regularity, and a supply of lime, gravel, crushed bones and charcoal should be always available A poultry house should be made warm, with as much sunshine admitted as possible

THE USE OF SALT The use of salt as a fertilizer is not nearly as much considered as we think its value demands It might be applied every third or fourth year. It is the usual practice to scatter the salt broadcast, at the rate of four or five bushels to the acre, after the grain has been put in. Many farmers who have used it in this manner, have given their testimony that their crop of wheat has been greatly increased, and the crop of weeds, bugs and worms correspondingly diminished. If this is so, it is evident that salt performs two important offices, while ordinary manure performs but one Many of our readers, doubtless have a small pasture in which they keep a cow and occasionally turn a horse Many of these pastures have coarse grasses growing in them, while in other places the grass dries up quickly on approach of warm and dry weather All such pastures will be greatly improved, and often the coarse grasses will entirely disappear if a harrow is passed freely over back and forth, and salt at the rate of eight to ten bushels to the acre be spread over the ground

WINTERING CABBAGES. Many persons dig a trench in dry soil and place the cabbages head downward and cover them over, leaving the stumps out and exposed The Germantown Telegraph reverses the order as follows —"Select a dry part of the garden—dig trenches of sufficient depth to receive the cabbage roots and stalks up to the head—into these trenches transplant the cabbages, heads up of course—fill in the dirt carefully about them to the full heads—plant four short posts, two of them higher than the others to give a pitch to the roof—nail shingling lath, or strips of old board from one post to the other, and another board half way up—lay upon this a number of bean poles, and upon these throw straw, corn fodder or bean haums, protecting also the sides—and your cabbages will keep in good condition until May Where there is a fence, only two posts are necessary, that being employed as the apex of the cover or roof"

SALTING CATTLE. William Egger, of Lowville, New York, a Swiss dairyman, says in the Rural New Yorker that cows should be salted every morning, and if in the stable, before fastening, but never after taking water This is the practice of the best stock keepers in Switzerland, and he thinks much preferable to salting them once or twice a week, or to keep it constantly within their reach.

SAND This is a very useful article to apply to certain soils as it acts upon them so as to make them more friable. It is to the heavy, adhesive soil, as beneficial as muck is to the sandy soil and we have often wondered that it was not more used. To cart on when meadow land is to be reclaimed, it is indispensable We were lately asked by a gentleman who owns heavy, springy land, if he should put on muck, and we said better use sand liberally It is a good article which to bed horses in the warmer part of the year certainly It so mixes with the manure that it prevents it from heating, and leaves it in fine condition.

HELP YOURSELVES. An old Oriental story relates that one day Moola Muscerodien, in a mosque, ascended the desk, and thus addressed his audience.—

"Oh, children of the Faithful, do you know what I am going to say?"

They answered "No!"

"Well, then" replied he, "it is of no use for me to waste my time on so stupid a set of people," and saying this he came down and dismissed them.

Next day he again mounted the desk and asked:—

"Oh, true Mussulmans, do you know what I [illegible]

They answered "Yes!"

SOUTH JEFFERSON Me

In May 1866, our agent met with Deacon [illegible] Hodgkins of South Jefferson Me who related the following astonishing cure effected by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment He said—Some time last winter I was taken sick with a serious lung difficulty which threatened to end in quick consumption We immediately summoned our family physician who attended him faithfully for about four weeks during which time he gradually grew weaker Becoming satisfied that he himself as well as those around him expected that he would die, he positively refused to take any more medicine from the physician and requested us to try Johnson Anodyne Liniment Immediately we did so and in about an hour after the first application he began to feel better and from that time on he commenced to mend rapidly and in a few weeks was able to be about the house and in due time entirely recovered. We firmly believe that Johnson's Anodyne Liniment saved his life and that it will do as much for others similarly afflicted

MESSRS I S JOHNSON & Co

Dear Sirs—In the fall of 1856 I was attacked with a violent pain through my back and kidneys, which laid me up for more than a year I consulted the best physicians in the county and Portland Some pronounced it kidney some spinal disease After being under their treatment six or eight months and receiving no particular benefit I was advised by a friend to try your liniment On taking part of a bottle it brought away, in my water, something similar to the flings of steel, which relieved me in part and by continuing to take it for three months or more, I was completely cured I most heartily recommend it as the best family medicine I ever used With pleasure I send you the foregoing statement. You can make such use of it as you deem proper

SPINAL DISEASES CAN BE CURED

Don't fail to read the following statement of facts—

Remarkable cure of a most obstinate case of spinal difficulty effected by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment

Mr Farrington now of the firm of Hutchinson & Farrington Burnham, Waldo County Me was for four years unable to do a day's work or attend to business of any kind during which time he suffered from those excruciating pains along the spine which rarely fail to accompany this spinal disease Having suffered long and tried many remedies without receiving much benefit, he began to despair of ever being able to attend to the most simple duties of life At length being advised to try Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, and very soon saw that it was the long wished for remedy which induced him to persevere in its use until he had used fifteen bottles which so far restored him to health as to enable him to begin business The writer of this saw Mr Farrington at work in March 1867 and requested the facts for publication which permission to publish If there are persons who would like to make further inquiries Mr Farrington is ready at any time to answer them
